

Umm ... [paused for 2 seconds] Last semester I led a group in a class project on robot programming. It was a totally crazy experience. The students did almost nothing until the last moment. ... Umm ... Basically, I had to intervene at that point and led them to work hard. Eventually, this project was completed successfully. [looked away from the interviewer].